

Robin L. Blume, Esquire

For the past twenty-five years the Law Office of Robin L. Blume has handled divorce, custody, support and all the other matters pertaining to the dissolution of marriages. Issues such as grandparent's rights, residential real estate, wills, living wills and most happily adoption, are also welcome.

I practice in Burlington, Camden and Gloucester Counties. While most of my work occurs in the Superior Court, I have experience in both Municipal and Appellate Courts as well.

My practice is small and allows me to give personal attention to each of my clients as needed. Together we seek the best solutions to the thorny problems of getting through the break up of a marriage, the visitation rights of grandparents, or the adoption of a child in the most expedient, cost effective way possible.

Together with my husband, Ray, we offer a full menu of services dealing with family problems.
